

A SHOUT IN THE NIGHT

It was Halloween night and I had to take my little sister Mary to a Halloween party. I waited for her to get dressed. She was dressed as a fairy. She had a pink dress with glitter, red shoes and a purple tiara. After that we went to the party. When we arrived to the place of the party, I wasn't sure about entering because it was very creepy. There were spiderwebs everywhere, it was dark and I could hear strange noises but my sister convinced me to enter.

Inside, there were many people. I was going to leave Mary and then, when the party finished, I was going to go back to the party and bring her back home, but I found some friends from school there and I kept on talking and talking with them. The party finished. I hadn't realized it was SO late. I was going to leave but my sister wasn't with me so, I started to look for her.

First, I looked for her in the kitchen but she wasn't there. Then I went to look for her in the library...It was very dark in the library so, I lit a candle but there I only found a skeleton. Then I went to look for her in a big room. I entered and I found Mary's name written on the walls with blood and on the floor there was a part of her pink dress. I started to feel afraid but suddenly I heard a girl's voice shouting "AHHHH". It was my sister!

I followed the voice. It came from the basement. I opened the door and there I found my sister dead on the floor. I started to cry but then I saw a shadow next to the body. I thought it had killed my sister. I wanted to take revenge so I followed it. It didn't know I was following it. It entered into a small room where there were many bodies. I felt very scared so, I started to silently leave but the shadow heard me and told me "You saw too much" and it killed me.
