A Voyage to...

CANDY CASH

Illustrations: Found surfing the internet.

Our voyage to CANDY CASH was a little bit strange. It didn't happen because of a shipwreck or a storm. It was actually a beautiful day when we found CANDY CASH. We were on our way back home, there was a lot of wind so we were moving really fast. But suddenly, we crashed into something. There was nothing in the way but the sea started to turn red, and then we started seeing an island. Then, in the sea, there were fish, but not ordinary fish, they seemed like candy. The sailors in my ship started shouting, and then there was blackness.

When I woke up the first thing I saw was a woman, I quickly realized that I was tied up. Also my head was killing me, it hurt so much I felt really dizzy, so I closed my eyes again. This strange woman started talking to me, she told me that I was in CANDY CASH and that she was the queen, and her name was Agus. This place had a really strange mixture of colors, it went from purple and blue to yellow and orange, then there was a dark red like scarlet. I was actually sitting on something really comfortable, she told me it was called cotton candy. I spoke to the queen and I told her I didn't mean any harm. She believed me so she let me go, but she insisted on showing me the rest of CANDY CASH. First, I met her pet, a swedish fish called sweet sweed, the strangest thing was that she could talk and also she was a candy. Agus took me to see the most famous places in CANDY CASH. One of them was full of chocolate mountains, it was a beautiful place, she told me that at a certain time of the year the chocolate in the peaks started falling down and everyone came to see it. Afterwards, they showed me the ca$h bath, this was a really strange place that I had never heard about before. People paid to take a bath in money, so I guess everyone was really rich there. The third place was the marshmallow lake, it was a lake that instead of having lilypads, had giant marshmallows, she told me that in winter the lake froze and all the children went to jump on the marshmallow because they were really bouncy.

The tour was over and the queen was about to let me go when she changed her mind. She became really angry and started shouting at everyone, I was really confused, she told one of the soldiers to put me in the dungeon. When the soldier was taking me to the dungeon he explained to me why the queen had become so mad. He told me that there was a spirit, her name was Ine, she was really bad and every time the queen was about to make a good decision she whispered in her ear something really mean that made her get really angry. This was really bad because it meant that every time the queen was about to let me go, Ine would whisper something bad to her. I had to do something about this. I wasn't sure what, but I would figure something out, because I didn't want to spend the rest of my life there. The days and nights in the dungeon were really cold and boring, but the soldiers were actually really nice with me, they brought me blankets to warm up and food. Being alone all day without no one to talk to gave me a lot of time to think of my plan to get out until finally I knew what to do.

I asked one of the soldiers to bring me a book about spirits, he did as I told him. He brought me the book and I started reading until I found what I wanted to find. It said that spirits disappeared forever when you threw water to them. To get the spirit there I asked one of the soldiers to get the queen down and give her good ideas about doing something. He did as I told him, he got the queen down and he started giving her good ideas. Suddenly, a wind came in from the window. I got prepared, I grabbed my bucket and threw it to the wind that was passing. We started hearing a scream and we could start seeing the spirit, it was horrible, it had black hair and the brownest eyes. Then she started disappearing, the queen was very surprised, she thanked me and she offered me staying in the kingdom with her, I thanked her but I told her that I had a family to take care off. She completely understood and in a day or two there was a ship prepared for me. Before leaving I went and said goodbye to sweet sweed and the soldiers that had helped me. The ship that they prepared for me looked totally normal, it was made of wood and it had ordinary sails. The queen told me that they had packed inside the boat a year supply of cotton candy, I was really happy because back home this strange candy didn't exist. I said all my goodbyes and I started sailing. I got home in a day or two and I started selling cotton candy it was really famous and soon everyone started making this delicious candy. So this is my story to CANDY CASH It's a little bit strange but I swear I didn't invent it, it is totally true. I'll see you next time in another adventure.

This voyage was really strange, the best thing is that selling cotton candy made me famous. I actually miss CANDY CASH a lot, I'm thinking of visiting them soon and make sure that everything is okay and that no other spirit has come. Also next time I visit, I'm thinking about bringing food from England so they can taste it. I really want to see the chocolate melt from chocolate mountains. A thing that I learnt is that you'll always have someone to help you, a friend, like the soldiers that helped me get out.

My Personal Comment:

I had a lot of fun writing this story. It is really fun writing on the computer because you can share it with friends and put different kinds of letters. In my opinion, it makes the story more interesting, you have more fun reading it. I liked this experience very much.
